	The themes mainly depict nature, mythology, religious rituals, animals, birds, and floral motifs, with no empty space left in the composition.
6(A)	Key points to be used: Famous mural painting from the Ajanta Caves near Aurangabad, Maharashtra. It is painted in Cave No. 1 during the late 5th century CE and is considered a masterpiece of Gupta-period art. The Bodhisattva is depicted as an embodiment of compassion and selflessness, holding a blue lotus. The visual elements such as line, colour, posture, and expression should be elaborated. OR	2
6(B)	The Bodhisattva is made larger than life in comparison to the other human figures to emphasize his spiritual importance and divine status. In traditional Indian art, size is often used symbolically rather than realistically. The larger scale of the Bodhisattva highlights his superiority, wisdom, and compassion, and shows that he is the central focus of the composition. By depicting him in a bigger form, the artist draws the viewer's attention toward him and conveys his elevated position as an enlightened being who guides and protects humanity.	2
	SECTION-C Attempt any two questions from the given options
7.	Key points to be elaborated: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> The Rashtrakuta king Krishna I commissioned the world's largest monolithic rock-cut chaityas, viharas, and Hindu temples at Ellora during the 8th and 9th centuries CE. Ellora Cave No. 16, known as the Kailashnath Temple, is dedicated to Lord Shiva. The temple is carved from top to bottom in the Deccan style and is rich in symbolism and narrative reliefs. Sculptures of elephants appear to support parts of the structure, creating a sense of movement and drama. The themes are based on the Shiva Purana, including the depiction of Ravana shaking Mount Kailash. Kalash, Shikhar, Garbhagriha, Nandi Mandapa, Gopuram, Parikrama sthal. 	2+2+2
8.	Line helps create movement, mood, and direction. Curved and flowing lines often convey softness, grace, and calmness, while straight or vertical lines suggest strength and stability. Diagonal lines create a sense of action and tension, and rough or broken lines may express unrest or conflict.	2+2+2

	Through the use of different types of lines, the artist guides the viewer's eye and sets the emotional tone of the artwork. Colour strongly influences the emotional impact of a composition. Warm colours like red, orange, and yellow create feelings of energy, passion, or warmth, whereas cool colours such as blue and green evoke calmness, peace, or sadness. Bright colours may suggest joy and celebration, while dull or dark tones can express seriousness, mystery, or sorrow. The contrast and harmony of colours also help communicate the overall idea and mood. Shapes and forms contribute to meaning and symbolism. Rounded shapes often suggest comfort, harmony, and unity, while sharp or angular shapes may express tension or aggression. Large forms can indicate importance and dominance, whereas smaller forms may appear less significant. The arrangement and balance of these shapes within the composition help to convey the artist's message clearly.
9.	Point to be elaborated- <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Title of the sculpture is the Lion Capital. Sculpture was commissioned by Ashoka the grandson of Chandragupta Maurya.
