[SECTION - A : READING]

1. Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow -

You want to get healthy, you know you need to exercise more. But if you are not ready to grunt through an hour of kick -boxing, don't despair. There is growing agreement among exercise researchers that the intense physical activities offered by most health clubs are not the only or even the preferable - path to better health. Indeed, the best thing for most of us may be to just walk.

Walking may be the perfect exercise. Working at a speed of 5 to 6 kmph for half an hour or so, may be five or six times a week. You may not feel the benefits all at once, but the evidence suggests that over the long term, a regular walking routine can do a world of preventive good.

Dr. (Miss) Johne Manson says, "If everyone were to walk briskly 30 minutes a day, we could cut the incidence of many chronic diseases by 30 to 40 percent." She further says "Regular physical activity is probably as close to a magic bullet as we will come in modern medicine"

Brisk walking is good for the heart. Which makes a lot of sense. The heart is a musck after all, and any thing that makes the blood flow faster through a musck helps keep it in shape. But regular walking also lowers blood pressure.
