SECTION - A

- Read the following passage and select the appropriate answer. [5]

The chief commercial crop was indigo. The landlords compelled all tenants to plant three twentieths or 15 percent of their holdings with indigo and surrender the entire indigo harvest as rent. This was done by long-term contract. Presently, the landlords learned that Germany had developed synthetic indigo. They, thereupon, obtained agreements from the sharecroppers to pay them compensation for being released from the 15 percent arrangement.

The sharecropping arrangement was irksome to the peasants, and many signed willingly. Those who resisted, engaged lawyers; the landlords hired thugs. Meanwhile, the information about synthetic indigo reached the illiterate peasants who had signed, and they wanted their money back.

SECTION - D

- Read the passage and answer the questions given below :

[5]

Greed has poisoned men's souls; has barricaded the world with hate; has goose-stepped us into misery and bloodshed. We have developed speed, but we have shut ourselves in. Machinery that gives abundance has left us in want. Our knowledge has made us cynical; our cleverness, hard and unkind. We think too much and feel too little. More than machinery, we need humanity. More than cleverness we need kindness and gentleness. Without these qualities, life will be violent and all will be lost. The aeroplane and the radio have brought us closer together. The very nature of these inventions cries out for the goodness in man; cries out for universal brotherhood; for the unity of us all.

- 59) What is the root cause of hatred?
60) What is the result of our cleverness?
61) Which inventions (mentioned in the passage) help removing distances?

- Read the following poem and answer the questions given below :

Dear Sir, Dear Madam or Dear Friend,
With ease are written at the top;
When those two happy words are penned,
A youthful writer oft will stop,
And bite his pen, and lift his eyes
As if he thinks to find in air
The wished-for following words, or tries
To fix his thoughts by fixed stare.
But haply all in vain- the next

Two words may be so long before
 They'll come, the writer, sore perplex,
 Give in despair the matter over;
 And when maturer age he sees
 With ready pen so swift inditing,
 With envy he beholds the ease
 Of long-accustomed letter-writing.

- 59) Whose problem is described in the poem?
- 60) What is written at the top?
- 61) Which gestures suggest that he is struggling for thoughts?
- 62) Who can write with greater ease ?
- 63) Identify the figure of speech in the line – ‘And then maturer age he sees’.

 Interpret the chart in 6 to 7 sentences.

OR

Read the following passage and prepare notes for the same:

The capitalist system has produced an almost universal ignorance of how things are made and done, whilst at the same time it has caused them to be made and done on a gigantic scale. We have to buy books and encyclopaedias to find out what it is we are doing all day; and as the books are written by people who are not doing it, and who get their information from other books, what they tell us is from twenty to fifty years out of date, and unpractical at that.

It is a funny place, this world of capitalism, with its astonishing spread of ignorance and helplessness, boasting all the time of its spread of education and enlightenment. There stand the thousands of property owners and the millions of wage workers, none of them able to make anything, none of them knowing what to do until somebody tells them, none of them having the least notion of how it is that they find people paying them money, and things in the shops to buy with it. And when they travel they are surprised to find that savages and Esquimaux and villagers who have to make everything for themselves are more intelligent and resourceful! The wonder would be if they are anything else.

Climate change and global warming are dramatically urgent and serious problems that can lead to calamitous consequences.

We do not need to wait for governments alone to find solutions to these terrible problems. Each individual can play an important part by simply adopting a more responsible lifestyle beginning with some little everyday Dos and Don'ts. It's the only reasonable way to save our planet, before it is too late.

19) Which two problems are discussed here?

20) Who can help government to find solution to these problems?

The rulers know that if the government dresses them up in khaki and gives them a rifle and starts them off with a band, the workers will go forth to fight valiantly for their own enemies. They are taught that brave men die for their country's honour. What a price to pay for a vague idea - the lives of millions of young men, other millions crippled and blinded for life, existence made horrible for still more millions of human beings.

21) What is taught to the workers?

22) What would be the consequences of war?

These are ants that do 'farming'. You may know that it was a big leap for human progress when man gave up being a full time hunter and took to farming. Seemingly, the umbrella ants of South America have taken the same step in their small way! They are called by that name because they are often seen carrying large pieces of leaf over their heads like umbrellas.

23) Where are umbrella ants found?

24) What is common between human being and umbrella ants here in the paragraph?

I drove the good doctor back to his home. He said that Nana was suffering from a sort of dissociative personality disorder. The condition was little understood, he said, and there was no sure cure for it. He said, "We will keep at it, do our best. But at your nana's age, that kind of recovery is nearly impossible."

25) What was Nana suffering from?

26) According to the doctor, due to _____ recovery from the disease was nearly impossible.

Of all the blessings conferred on mankind by a benign providence, the most useful is the headache. But for it, there would be many great embarrassments in life. Factual explanations are not feasible. In such circumstances, headache acts as a sort of password. I remember at school, the very first letter-writing lesson I was taught was : “Respected sir, as I am suffering from headache, I request you to grant me a leave.....” I always wonder what made our teacher select headache as an excuse, even in a specimen letter.

27) Which blessing is the most useful according to the author?

28) What was the subject of the first specimen letter writing that the writer learnt at school?

When emotions have taken you over, it becomes nearly impossible to think clearly. Then it becomes very easy to make unwise decisions or to agree to something which is not to your advantage. The screen exercise shows you how to step back and emotionally detach yourself from your current situation so that you can see more clearly what is going on.

29) How do overwhelming emotions affect you?
